J. R. Spencer, who has been living on the farm of Harrison Wilson, started today for Frenchburg, Menefee county, at which place he will make his future home.

One day last week we visited the standing rock between Gillmore and Lacy creek, and will say that it is a beauty. Nearby is a small rock house in which many wild varmints have spent the night. My guide told me that at one time during the late war Frank Trimble, A. Porter Lacy and Billy Kash were hiding under that rock and the place was so small that all three could not get under, so they had to leave their feet on the outside. The drip from the rock fell on their feet and froze icicles on their pants. Uncle Bill woke up and left the others sleeping, and crawling out set the woods on fire. When the other boys woke up Bill was saying, "I had rather go to Hazel Green, be killed and fill a soldier's grave than to freeze to death in a d—n wild cat den."

W. A. Oldfield and H. A. Mannin, the famous coal miners, are flooding the markets with some very fine coal. They are both free silyer Democrats, for a tariff for revenue only. That is all they charge for coal. They think the way Shackelford got there it will be no trouble for a Democratic governor to do the same.

Cyrus Chips.

Peace and plenty reign at Cyrus, but news is scarce.

Health is good, and corn gathering is on hand. Corn is better than expected.

Our school house at Salyersville is near completion and is a beauty. We hope that it will be a first class high school.

Your scribe had the pleasure of visiting Judge A. P. Cooper this morning and found him alone at his old mansion home enjoying himself well. We can say that the judge has the sweetest little girl we ever saw, and as peart as a cricket. He is a first class lawyer and a good neighbor, though we believe he is taking the matrimonial fever. He is a widower and needs some good woman's attention, as he has a good home and plenty of everything to make a home pleasant and happy.

His Eaten Bread Not Forgotten.

Thanks.—We desire to extend our sincerest thanks to the church and all friends who so kindly remembered us on Thanksgiving, and we pray that the good Lord may as abundantly bless you all with spiritual things and make your hearts as glad and happy in their reception as you did in your temporal things.

JAMES R. WORD.

Lung soreness is a forerunner of serious trouble. If you feel the slightest indication, Dr. Bell's Pine Tar will allay the inflammation and prevent further progress of the disease. It is the most efficient means of curing coughs, colds and bronchial affections found in the annals of medicine.

Deputy Postmasters in Luck.

More money for the mountains. The following five deputy postmasters, all of whom live in this section are to receive an increase in salary as follows: At Beattyville, $50; Salyersville $40; Jackson, $100; Inez, $110; Hindman $10, and Flat Gap, $50.

Joe Embry Killed.

Joe Embry, a prominent farmer living near Mt. Sterling was shot and almost instantly killed Friday near his own place by L. E. Stull, the toll gate keeper on the Owingsville and Mt. Sterling turnpike. Stull had rented from Embry and cultivated tobacco for him on shares. Stull needed money and sold his share of the crop, which Embry disapproved. Friday, it is said, Stull met Embry in a barn near the latter's place. Witnesses state that Embry drew his pistol and fired twice, the first time while Stull's back was turned. Stull, who was on a horse, then fired five times, one bullet piercing Embry's body, from which he died in a few minutes. Stull was uninjured. He was arrested and lodged in the county jail. He claims self-defense. Both men have families.

How to Prevent Pneumonia.

At this time of the year a cold is very easily contracted, and if let to run its course without the aid of some reliable cough medicine is liable to result in that dread disease, pneumonia. We know of no better remedy to cure a cough or cold than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. We have used it quite extensively and it has always given entire satisfaction.—Oologah, Ind. Ter. Chief.

This is the only remedy that is known to be a certain preventive of pneumonia. Among the many thousands who have used it for colds and la grippe we have never yet learned of a single case having resulted in pneumonia. Persons who have weak lungs or have reason to fear an attack of pneumonia, should keep the remedy at hand. The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by J. T. Day.

A Thanksgiving Feast.

Joe Rose, of Lacy creek, treated his friends to an elegant Thanksgiving dinner last Thursday. Thirty invited guests sat down to the feast, among whom were Misses Virgie James, Minnie Day, Ava Swango, Nettie Wheeler and Messrs. Curtis Quickall, Elza James, Will Pieratt, Jimmie James, Mort Swango and Charley and Curtis Rose, of town. Arberry Swango's family was represented by three of his children, Misses Etta and Carrie and Curtis, and Harmon Swango's two children, Rush and Miss Mollie. John Cecil and his sister, Miss Bonnie, represented Ed Cecil's family and Miss Ada represented the family of her father, Oscar Cecil. Others of Gillmore and Lacy creek sat at the festive board, but we failed to get their names.

Sullivan's "Lost Chord."

The first correct copy of Sir Arthur Sullivan's great song, "The Lost Chord," ever printed in America, direct from the composer's own hand, will appear in the Ladies Home Journal. Over his signature Sir Arthur Sullivan states that of the millions of copies of "The Lost Chord" sold in America, all are incorrect, and that this is the first accurate copy of the song ever prepared by him, or for which he ever received a penny of payment. The complete music and words of Sir Arthur's copy of the song, expressly prepared for The Ladies Home Journal, will be given in the Christmas Number.

Capt. Broas Pays Us a Visit.

Capt. R. M. Broas, representing the American coal company of New York, and erstwhile a railroad magnate in this section, was a guest of the Day House Saturday night. THE HERALD asked him if he could say anything encouraging with regard to the proposed construction of the railroad from Elkatawa to the Caney coal fields, and he said he could not. But added that whenever he had any news he would inform us and that when he did so it would be authentic.

"And Sold to Dr. Daly, at $1,600."

Auctioneer John H. Pieratt reports that he sold the Riverside Hotel at Jackson to Dr. Daly, of that place, for $1,600. The furniture was not cried off, but it is understood that Dr. Daly is to take it at an agreed price between he and James Patrick, the late owner. The purchaser bought the property simply as an investment, and has no idea of becoming a boniface. Capt. Gaines, late of El Park Hotel, at Terrent, will probably lease the property and open up a first class hotel.

Now is the time to subscribe.

A Caney Genius.

John Henry Ferguson, who is located on Grassy creek, in Morgan county, 2 miles below the chapel, is certainly a genius. Never serving a day at any trade he is able to master the most intricate machinery and work. He has an engine and boiler in his shop with which he runs his machinery and for which he made all the pulleys and shafting of wood, turning them on his wood lathe. He has a mortising machine, a teneting machine, band saw, cut-off saw, boring machine, jig saw, etc. He made the wood work for all of them. The mortising machine is a piece of his own handiwork, every particle of which he constructed but the drive wheel, which was an old mowing machine wheel, converted to that purpose. The bits to this machine are all steel, made and tempered by him, and the machine is worked on the bicycle principle. Parties who have visited his shop say that he manufactures as fine furniture as can be seen in any furniture store, turns out molding of any and every pattern, and builds verandas and stairways for houses. Last summer he had the contract to build a two story frame house of 8 rooms, hall, stairway, etc., for Harris Howard, of White Oak, in Morgan county, the lumber being furnished him in the rough. He moved his planer to the site, dressed the lumber and with three hands completed the house in exactly six weeks, ceiling the entire house with pine, which was varnished. Yes, he is a genius, and no mistake, and when one considers that he never studied a day under any master this record is remarkable. An effort was recently made to get him to move to our town with his plant, but he declined to do so for the reason that he was already established and doing well. If he would but advertise in THE HERALD now his fortune would be assured, and if he is as wise in that respect as he is with regard to his work, he will hasten to do so and no longer hide his light under a bushel. We doubt if one in a hundred of the citizens of Morgan and Wolfe know that there is a man among us who can work wonders in his way, and he owes it to himself and to these to enlighten them that they may be able to economize.

A Beautiful Little Boquet.

Our better ½ considers the perfumery of the following so sweet that she insists upon its reproduction in THE HERALD, and as its our province to please her, we take pleasure in complying. The writer was raised and educated at the Masonic Home at Louisville, and our Masonic brethren will be glad to learn that he is doing well as a printer in the city from which he writes.

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 14, 1897.

MRS. SPENCER COOPER, Hazel Green, Ky.:
Dear Friend—"We" were married six weeks ago yesterday, and a few nights since my little "frou" and I were reading, when she told me to listen while she read of a man who appreciated his wife. She was reading "The Ladies Home Ideal," and I thought the article would not interest me very much but gave her my attention. She read the heading, and when I heard "Better-38" interrupted her with, "Spencer Cooper, Hazel Green Herald," and was not mistaken.

We both think the article is grand. He has the best paper published in Eastern Kentucky.

"Our" best wishes to Mr. Cooper and yourself.

Your friend,

ROBERT M. DERICKSON,

THE HERALD.

SPENCER COOPER. : : : Editor.

HAZEL GREEN, KY.
THURSDAY, Dec. 2, 1897.

INCIDENTALLY we hear that Judge John E. Cooper will be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor at the next election, and the papers announce that Judge James Hazelrigg, of the appellate court, will also go before the Democratic convention and ask the nomination. Judge Cooper has just been re-elected as circuit judge in his district, on which he has a cinch and $3,000 per year salary for six years to come, while Judge Hazelrigg gets $6,000 a year and will be chief justice within a year. They are both, therefore, well fixed in finance and full of honors, and should remember that a bird in the hand is worth forty thousand million on a tree. They might chase the gaudy winged governorship and never cage the prize. On the other hand there is Hon. James D. Black, of Barbourville, who is not in office and who has frequently been favorably mentioned as the most eligible candidate in Eastern Kentucky for executive. His eminent fitness, his eloquent appeals in behalf of Democracy at all times and in all places, and his sterling worth withal certainly entitle him to a high place of honor in the hearts of the people. Tender him the gubernatorial nomination by acclamation would be small tribute but to some extent emphasize the esteem in which he is held, and we hope our two Montgomery friends will forego their desire for fame (they already hold the fortunes) in his favor. In event, however, that one or the other of the two makes the race THE HERALD will support him, and preferably, "Cousin John," of course. That both can't secure the nomination is self evident, and both being of the same town, county and district they should not both grab for it. Considering that they are both well fixed, equity and justice suggests that they might withdraw in favor of Jim Black, and thus insure harmony and a howling success for the Democratic party in the next gubernatorial race. But after all their prospective candidacy may be only a running rumor, and upon this hypothesis THE HERALD is loyal in allegiance to Hon. James D. Black until authentically informed as to the facts.

WHILE the woods hereabouts are full of friends to Hon. James D. Black, all of whom would support him for the nomination for governor, all things being equal, we occasionally hear a man say: "But he belongs to a county and district both of which are largely Republican." Quite true, but so much the better. If he should be the nominee of the Democratic party he would carry Knox with a whoop, and his proverbial popularity in the district would increase the Democratic vote in the Eleventh at least fifty per cent. Votes are what count in elections and the man who through personal and political popularity can poll the largest plurality is the one who should be selected to knock the persimmons. In our humble opinion Hon. James D. Black is that man, and there are others.

THE McKinley administration is not recognizing bolters from the Democratic ranks. Senator Lindsay has been told that he may name the postmaster at Frankfort, but he must name a Republican, and we are glad to note that our ante bellum friend, Judge Billy Sneed, is likely to be the lucky man. Postmaster Holmes, Hannacrat, hoped through the influence of Senator Lindsay and his brother-in-law, ex-Mayor Todd, of Louisville, to hold on, but the administration won't have it.

THE Spoutspring Times, that sprightly little local paper of Estill county, has been leased to Claude P. McIntosh, who promises to keep it up to the standard of excellence it attained and maintained under its founder, J. E. Burgher, jr., who retires to devote his time to other business interests.

ALL doubts about the condition of the gold mines in the Klondyke will probably be removed by the publications in the daily press, which we see from day to day. It must be evident that there is no gold in the Klondyke region, because there are so many men returning with immense fortunes that they have gathered in that country in the last year or two, or else the supply must be inexhaustible. People who read these stories should bear in mind the fact that perhaps two-thirds of them are inventions of enterprising newspaper men who in dull times must get news, if they have to make it, in order to make their matter readable and profitable, and the further fact that the opportunities in the Klondyke region have been magnified by those who seek to make the impression upon the public mind that the world's supply of gold is practically inexhaustible and illimitable. It is all a part of the scheme to convince the public that the supply of gold in the world is ample to furnish a safe basis for the world's currency, and that silver is no longer necessary to a sound system of finance.—Louisville Dispatch.

The above is in line with the view we have all along maintained with regard to the reputed riches of the Klondyke gold region, and we reproduce it that our readers may read and reflect upon the rottenness of the Republicans and renegade Democrats who resort to "ways that are dark and tricks that are vain" whenever necessary to make a political point. The great majority of the people are undoubtedly in favor of the coinage of silver as money, along with gold—for bimetalism as against monometalism—and to put silver in disfavor is the desire of the denizens of Wall street and the metropolitan dailies, a large majority of which are owned and controlled by the Republicans and their allies, the gold standard Democrats. That there is gold in the Klondyke region we do not for a moment doubt, but that one can shovel it up with a scoop, as these gold standard papers would have us believe, sounds too much like the story of Aladdin's Lamp for a sane man to swallow. There's more glamour than gold, and as the Dispatch says, it is a scheme to leave silver out in the cold.

THE Mountain Voice, a Republican paper started just before the campaign closed, with H. T. Beatty as editor, is now issued from the office of the Beattyville Enterprise, which suspended publication at the close of the campaign, the material being sold for taxes and bought by Judge G. W. Gourley. The Voice is a wideawake sheet full of local news, and politically rather conservative in tone. As no Democratic paper has ever been a success at Beattyville the course of The Voice will command more or less curiosity in country newspaper circles, and barring its politics, we wish it the success it should merit.

His Health is Improving.

Writing from the Palmyra House, at Hot Springs, Ark., under date of Nov. 26, Dr. John A. Taulbee says: "Dear Cooper—How are you, Aunt Sally and Warren? I am better than I have been in a year. Why don't you send me THE HERALD? I hope to see you all soon."

Dr. Taulbee reached home last night, just twenty-four hours after his letter came to hand. He could have economized and saved the 2-cent stamp by bringing it himself.

Wandering Minstrels.

The best music heard in this town for many a day was that made on a fiddle and banjo on our streets yesterday. J. W. Day, a blind man, played the fiddle, and Henry Griffith picked the banjo. Day is from Morgan and Griffith from Greenup. The listeners were quite liberal in contributing nickels, so that the musicians did not go away empty handed.

Would Be At a Loss Without It.

PAULINA, OREGON, Nov. 8, 1897.
MR. SPENCER COOPER: Dear Sir: Will you please change my address from Post, Crook county, Oregon, to Paulina, Oregon, as I would be at a great loss without the HAZEL GREEN HERALD, as it is a letter from home.

Truly yours,
J. N. CONGLETON.

Don't Be Ashamed of Your Friends.

If you have a social, a tea party or a dinner to which your friends are invited, or partake, report their names to this office and help us make THE HERALD better than ever. People always like to see their names in the paper if you don't say anything bad about 'em, and we want every scrap of society news to be had.

Filling for the Thank Tank.

Mrs. Ellen Pieratt, wife of Elder Jim Tom, will please accept the thanks of the editor and his better for a basket of the finest Yam sweet potatoes we ever saw in this section. Oh, that some one equally kind would donate a 'possum to keep 'em company. Wouldn't we feast? "Well, I'd tell a man."

Meeting at Elkins' Chapel.

Rev. J. R. Word will begin a meeting at Elkins' Chapel on Saturday night before the second Sunday in the month, to continue over the fourth Sunday. He is expecting Bro. Henry Grigsby, of Tolucho, Lewis county, Ky., and other help from home ministers. The public is cordially invited.

Acquitted on Trial.

From the Sentinel-Democrat of Friday, we learn that Charles and Roger Parsons, charged with shooting Green Butler, formerly of this place, with intent to kill, were acquitted in the circuit court Tuesday of last week.

Held Two Meetings.

Elder Jim Tom Pieratt got home Tuesday from Miller's creek, on the Lee and Estill line, where he held a meeting for eight days. He also held a meeting at Fincastle for nine days, which resulted in one addition.

Proficient on Pumpkin Butter.

Mrs. Frank Duke, above Daysboro, will please accept the thanks of the editor and his better for a dish of nice pumpkin butter, in the making of which she is unexcelled.

HOW TO FIND OUT.

Fill a bottle or common glass with urine and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates a diseased condition of the kidneys. When urine stains linen it is positive evidence of kidney trouble. Too frequent desire to urinate or pain in the back, is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

WHAT TO DO.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in relieving pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passages. It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to get up many times during the night to urinate. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists, price fifty cents and one dollar. For a sample bottle and pamphlet, both sent free by mail, mention THE HAZEL GREEN HERALD and send your full post-office address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The proprietors of this paper guarantee the genuineness of this offer.
